QUESTION 1

TEXT A

WHAT IN THE WORLD IS 'PLOGGING'?

- 1 If you are new to the term 'plogging', sit up and take note. This is the running craze that is sweeping the streets from Sweden through Thailand to London and now, South Africa. This new eco-friendly trend combines physical exercise with its mission to collect litter and help the environment. 'Ploggers' refer to people who clean up litter as they run. Talk about multi-tasking! 5
- 2 The word plogging is a combination of the English word 'jogging' and the Swedish word 'plocka' which means 'to pick up'. This movement was started in Sweden by trail runner Erik Ahlstrom, who encouraged litter collection while jogging. Environmentally conscious runners have now taken to collecting litter during their runs. Ploggers pull on their disposable gloves, grab a bin bag and scan the streets for litter along their route. Once the bag is full, the litter is deposited in an appropriate recycling bin, thus reducing the amount of litter making its way into the ocean. 10
- 3 Plogging introduces additional movements to exercise that could burn more calories and adds an extra purpose to daily workouts as ploggers are contributing to a really good cause. Those that plogg regularly say it makes them feel even better in many ways. It keeps them motivated mentally and encourages them to add five more minutes of exercise, or plogg an extra kilometre, so they can collect those extra pieces of rubbish. Going an extra mile leaves most ploggers feeling inspired to do more for the environment. Plogging can also be done while walking, cycling or hiking. Basically, it just means combining exercise with picking up rubbish and therefore it is beneficial to all. 15 20
- 4 Plogging has numerous benefits for both the plogger and the planet. To become a successful plogger, one must have a positive attitude towards trying something new and a willingness to get a bit dirty. Many ploggers like to carry their own reusable garbage bags. Runners should keep in mind that the whole point of plogging is to stay in motion, so they will not be able to pick up every single piece of litter along the route. It is advisable that one gets a plogging buddy who can help collect the pieces left behind. 25
- 5 Community members can also get involved by joining a plogging group in their area or even arranging their own plogging challenge. New ploggers can simply get a group of runners together, bring along some rubbish bags and protective gloves and set out on a run. While running, ploggers will sneak in extra exercise by bending down again and again to pick up litter. 30

- 6 In order to make plogging a trend, ploggers can post about their participation on social media to make it even more fun. They can share ideas and encourage others to start plogging. More than 60 000 photos of runners, who participated in plogging all over the planet, have already been posted on social media. It also does not really matter where they are plogging because 90% of plastic that pollutes the oceans comes from land-based sources. It is therefore important to have plogging clubs in all communities. 35 40
- 7 We all have our part to play in reducing pollution. Plogging is a great way to help solve this problem since it is a free and easy way to train while giving runners an opportunity to take care of the environment. The responsibility to save the planet by making it cleaner and healthier does not only lie with the environmentalists. We should always remember that if all hands are on deck, the load always feels lighter. 45

While some matriculants go straight to tertiary institutions after completing Grade 12, others still want to take a break or a gap year to plan their future.

Read TEXT C below and list SEVEN points on how to plan a gap year.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Your summary must be written in point form.
2. List your SEVEN points in full sentences, using no more than 70 words.
3. Number your sentences from 1 to 7.
4. Write only ONE point per sentence.
5. Use your OWN words as far as possible.
6. Indicate the total number of words you have used in brackets at the end of your summary.

TEXT C

USE YOUR GAP YEAR WISELY

A gap year is seen by many young people as a time to relax and not do anything. In fact, a gap year is a perfect time for you to pursue your passions and improve your skills.

When you have too much time on your hands, you can easily get distracted. To utilise your free time more productively, you can conduct research to get a clear vision of the gap year possibilities. You do not have to do all the work; a gap year consultant can offer planned packages and support you throughout the year.

A gap year can be used as an opportunity to obtain more information about your dream career. Consider what career path you want to follow and what qualifications are required in that field. If you plan to be a teacher, finding a job as a tutor would be beneficial.

Use the time off to learn a new skill. If you decide to travel overseas, learn a new language. This will prepare you for translation jobs when you return home. There is often a shortage of translators in some languages.

Carry out a project you are passionate about as it can be a possible source of income. Your passion project should enable you to answer to your calling and prepare you for your future employment.

Take time to talk to the people you meet; making a connection could help you find a friend and possibly increase your future professional network.

MARKING GUIDELINES

MARKS: 80

These marking guidelines consist of 11 pages.

INSTRUCTIONS TO MARKERS

1. Candidates are required to answer ALL the questions.
2. These marking guidelines serve as a guide to markers. Some responses may require a marker's discretion, while others may be expanded at the national marking guideline discussion.
3. Candidates' responses should be assessed as objectively as possible.

MARKING THE COMPREHENSION

- Because the focus is on understanding, incorrect spelling and language errors in responses should not be penalised unless such errors change the meaning/understanding. (Errors must still be indicated.)
- If a candidate uses words from a language other than the one being examined, disregard those words, and if the answer still makes sense, do not penalise. However, if a word from another language is used in a text and required in an answer, this will be acceptable.
- For open-ended questions, no marks should be awarded for YES/NO or I AGREE/I DISAGREE. The reason/substantiation/motivation is what should be considered.
- When one-word answers are required and the candidate gives a whole sentence, mark correct provided that the correct word is underlined/ highlighted.
- When two/three facts/points are required and a range is given, mark only the first two/three.
- Accept dialectal variations.
- For multiple-choice questions, accept BOTH the letter corresponding with the correct answer AND/OR the answer written out in full.

SECTION A: COMPREHENSION

The bags can be used repeatedly.✓
Ploggers can save money.✓
NOTE: Accept any TWO of the above answers. (2)

- 1.7 The writer means that if everyone works together/co-operates/helps✓it would be easier to reduce pollution/save the environment.✓ (2)

1.8 Open-ended. Accept a suitable answer, e.g.

Yes.

Ploggers will actively contribute to saving the planet. This popular trend will help in reducing the litter that pollutes the environment, thus saving the planet.

OR

No.

Plogging will reduce some waste, especially plastic litter, however, it will not be enough to save the planet. Not all people enjoy exercise/will be interested in plogging.

NOTE: Accept other suitable answers. A candidate can score 1 mark for an answer that is not well-substantiated. Accept a combination answer. (2)

1.9 Open-ended. Accept a suitable answer, e.g.

The title, which is phrased as a question, is suitable because it captures the readers' attention and arouses their curiosity. The article then answers the question by explaining what plogging is.

OR

The title is not suitable because it is unusual to use a question as a title. It gives the impression that the writer is also uncertain about the meaning of the concept. Plogging is a foreign concept which might confuse some readers.

NOTE: Accept other suitable answers. A candidate can score 1 mark for an answer that is not well-substantiated. Accept a combination answer. (2)

1.10 People should consume less sugar.✓ People should choose to drink water.✓ (2)

1.11 They represent the number of teaspoons/cubes of added sugar each drink contains.✓ (1)

1.12 Energy drinks have more sugar than the prescribed daily limit.✓ (1)

1.13 Open-ended. Accept a suitable answer, e.g.

Yes.

It shows the sugar content in each of the drinks so that the reader is guided on which drink contains less/more sugar. The number in the heart and the sugar cubes clearly indicate the amount of sugar contained in each drink. The hearts suggest the link to the Heart and Stroke Foundation. Drinking water is the healthiest option as it contains no sugar.

No.

It does not succeed as sugar is known to provide energy. People who require energy will still consume drinks with a high sugar content. The text does not completely discourage people from drinking sugary drinks as the Heart and Stroke Foundation only makes a recommendation. The arrows between the drinks are confusing as they move from one drink to the next.

NOTE: Accept other suitable answers. A candidate can score 1 mark for an answer that is not well-substantiated. Accept a combination answer. (2)
