SECTION A: COMPREHENSION

QUESTION 1

Read BOTH TEXT A and TEXT B and answer the set questions.

TEXT A

HAPPINESS IS A CHOICE

- 1 Maintaining a happy feeling is not easy. Choosing to be happy is a constant effort and not something that comes naturally. We must train ourselves to think 'happy'. Happiness is not a result of achievements or purchases, argues Calvin Holbrook, a psychologist.
- 2 According to psychologist Sonja Lyubomirsky, 50% of our natural happiness level is genetically determined – 10% depends on circumstances and the remainder on our so-called 'life activity'. We must make a choice to be happy, even when our circumstances tell us otherwise. Nothing will make you happy until you choose to be happy. 5
- 3 No one is happy all the time. True happiness does not mean no sadness and pain, but it is an ability to experience different emotions and appreciating positive things in your life. Most people think that happiness comes because of a salary increase or one hundred new 'likes' on an Instagram post. 10
- 4 Science has proven that instant pleasure does not really make us happy in the long- term. There is no 'magic pill' to finding happiness. It needs to be worked at constantly, with care, and dedication. You must commit to being happy and focus on it especially during those dark days! 15
- 5 We make around 35,000 conscious decisions every single day, from choosing what to eat, what to wear, who to love or how to spend our free time. Some of our choices turn out to be good and others not. What they have in common though is that all these choices are based on our deep desire to be happy. These choices make up part of our 'life activity'. While we cannot always control our circumstances, we do have more control over our life activity. We can focus on making better choices to increase our happiness levels. 20
- 6 You might be thinking, 'this is easier said than done'. Life is tough, so we will always face challenges. This does not mean that all of life is bad, it just means that life is not easy. But happiness does not come from your circumstances, it comes from a choice that you make. No matter how bad life seems, there is always something positive to focus on. It could be that you have a place to live, friends and family that love you or that you have eyes to see and legs to walk with. Millions of people in the world do not have all these things. 25
- 7 Find things in your life that you are grateful for. It could be things often taken for granted, such as the smell of cut grass or the sound of the ocean. Writing these things down in a gratitude diary helps to improve your level of happiness. Every day try jotting down three good things about the day. Doing this 30 increases confidence and reduces anxiety. Many studies have shown that meditation can also boost happiness levels because it reduces stress hormones.

8	Each time you have a negative thought, replace it with a positive one. This will help to retrain how you think and bring more positive thoughts and happiness into your life. If you have made a mistake, try to focus on your previous successes and happy times. Scientists have found that making yourself smile can help lower your heart rate during stressful activities. So, smiling when we feel down will gradually make us feel happier, even smiling at strangers will help you feel happy. Being kind and friendly to others creates happiness.	40 45
9	Happier people have rewarding social relationships. Humans are social beings and need regular contact. Loneliness is proven to decrease levels of happiness and can be as harmful as smoking. So, choose quality friendships. Even a short positive contact with a stranger can contribute to you feeling happier.
10	Nowadays people display their wealth, travels, and achievements on social media which creates the impression of happiness. President Theodore Roosevelt said, 'comparison is the thief of joy'. Choose to be satisfied with what you have and stop comparing your life to that of others.	50
11	Abraham Lincoln famously quoted, 'Most people are about as happy as they make up their minds to be.' He was right.	55

SECTION B: SUMMARYQUESTION 2

Being positive helps you to manage your problems.
Read TEXT C below and list SEVEN tips for positive thinking.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Your summary must be written in point form.
2. List your SEVEN points in full sentences, using no more than 70 words.
3. Number your sentences from 1 to 7.
4. Write only ONE point per sentence.
5. Use your OWN words as far as possible.
6. Indicate the number of words you have used in brackets at the end of your summary.

TEXT CPOSITIVE THINKING

Positive thinking will not make your problems disappear but will make it more manageable.

Challenging situations are a part of life, so when you are faced with one, focus on the good things. For example, if someone cancels plans, focus on how you are free for another activity you enjoy.

Practising gratitude has been shown to improve self-esteem even in difficult times. Think of people that bring you happiness and try to express gratitude to them daily, like thanking a loved one for washing the dishes. Writing down the things you are grateful for improves your sense of well-being. Write in a gratitude journal the things you are grateful for daily.

Laughter relieves stress, lightens the mood, and makes things less difficult. Be open to humour and give yourself permission to laugh. Consider the people with whom you are spending time. Have you noticed how someone in a bad mood can bring down everyone in a room? Surround yourself with positive people who will help you see the bright side.

We tend to form negative opinions of ourselves. Respond with positive messages, also known as positive self-talk. Ask a trusted friend to help you identify negative areas in your life. A co-worker might notice that you tend to be negative at work. Tackle negative areas one at a time.

Create a ritual in which you start each day on a positive note. Tell yourself that it is going to be a great day, listen to a happy song or compliment someone.

QUESTION 3: ANALYSING AN ADVERTISEMENT

Study the advertisement (TEXT D) below and answer the set questions.

TEXT D

The advertisement features a central image of a white bowl filled with oatmeal, topped with fresh raspberries and a sprig of mint. To the right, a portion of a 'Jungle Oats Instant' product box is visible, featuring a tiger's face in a circular frame. Below the bowl, a digital display shows the time as 05:30. Above the bowl, a text box contains the headline 'Wow! What an early start!' and a sub-headline 'You're going to need some extra energy to get you through the long day ahead! We know just what will do the trick!'. Below this, a smaller box asks 'Breakfast?'. At the bottom, three circular icons display nutritional information: '269 Energy', '0 Fat', and '130 Calories'. A digital clock at the bottom shows the time 05:30. The background is a soft-focus image of a kitchen counter with a bowl of oatmeal and a spoon. The website 'Stanmorephysics.com' is visible in the bottom left corner of the advertisement.

QUESTION 5: LANGUAGE AND EDITING SKILLS

- 5.1 Read the passage (TEXT F) below, which has some deliberate errors, and answer the set questions.

TEXT F

JERUSALEMA
1	The gospel-themed hit is about not being left behind without hope – a sad message in 2020. In a year that has been both challenge and depleting, South Africans have managed to come out dancing.
2	They have inspired the rest of the world to join in. This is all thanks to music producer Master KG and his internacional hit, Jerusalema .	5
3	It quickly became an anthem both for South Africans and the world. The dance spread like wildfire around the globe. Everyone from fireman in Romania to wildlife conservationists in Zimbabwe took part in the dance craze.
4	Jerusalema managed to uplift people all through the world and encouraged them to find a reason to celebrate life. It brought joy during a time of uncertainty.	10
5	“It is a dance that was done by people from Angola, then Portugal followed, and it just went viral from that point,” Master KG, whose real name is Kgaogelo Moagi, told Sowetan Live.	15

[Adapted from www.globalcitizen.org]

- 5.1.1 Correct the SINGLE error in EACH of the following sentences. Write down ONLY the question numbers and the words you have corrected.

- (a) In a year that has been both challenge and depleting, South Africans have managed to come out dancing. (1)
- (b) This is all thanks to music producer Master KG and his internacional hit, Jerusalema. (1)
- (c) Everyone from fireman in Romania to wildlife conservationists in Zimbabwe took part in the dance craze. (1)
- (d) Jerusalema managed to uplift people all through the world and encouraged them to find a reason to celebrate life. (1)

- 5.1.2 Rewrite the following sentence in the simple past tense:

- Master KG wins the MTV Europe Music Award for Best African Act. (1)

5.1.3 Write the underlined symbol as a word.

The dance challenge helped more than 56% of adults to reduce their emotional stress. (1)

5.1.4 Rewrite the following sentence in the negative form:

The Jerusalema dance challenge boosts feelings of happiness. (1)

5.1.5 Give the plural form of the underlined word in the following sentence:

The Jerusalema dance had a positive impact on life. (1)

5.1.6 Rewrite the following sentence in reported speech:

Master KG said, 'My Jerusalema song has earned millions of views on YouTube.' (3)

MARKING GUIDELINE

MARCH 2026

Stanmorephysics.com

This marking guideline consists of 10 pages.

INSTRUCTIONS TO MARKERS

1. Candidates are required to answer ALL the questions.
2. This marking guideline serves as a guide to markers. Some responses may require a marker's discretion.
3. Candidates' responses should be assessed as objectively as possible.

MARKING THE COMPREHENSION

- Because the focus is on understanding, incorrect spelling and language errors in responses should not be penalised unless such errors change the meaning/ understanding. (Errors must still be indicated.)
- If a candidate uses words from a language other than the one being examined, disregard those words, and if the answer still makes sense, do not penalise. However, if a word from another language is used in a text and required in an answer, this will be acceptable.
- For open-ended questions, no marks should be awarded for YES/NO or I AGREE/I DISAGREE. The reason/substantiation/motivation is what should be considered.
- When one-word answers are required and the candidate gives a whole sentence, mark correct provided that the correct word is underlined/highlighted.
- When two/three facts/points are required and a range is given, mark only the first two/three.
- Accept dialectal variations.
- For multiple-choice questions, accept BOTH the letter corresponding with the correct answer AND/OR the answer written out in full.

OR
 You are never satisfied with what you have ✓ because you always want what others have. ✓ (2)

1.10 Open-ended. Accept a suitable response, e.g.,

Yes/Agree. Happiness is a daily practice that requires time, effort, and dedication. People who do not make a choice to be happy, will never experience happiness.

Concentrating on the negative is a choice too, but it makes us unhappy. ✓✓

OR

No/Disagree. Difficult circumstances prevent us from being happy. Even if you make a choice to be happy, it will not take your problems away. Problems can weigh us down, so happiness is not a choice then.

NOTE: The above are merely examples. Do not award a mark for Yes or No. Accept other suitable responses. A candidate can score 1 mark for an answer that is not well-substantiated. Accept a combination answer. (2)

1.11 Open-ended. Accept a suitable response, e.g.,

The title, 'HAPPINESS IS A CHOICE', is suitable because it is linked to the article which is about choosing to be happy. The passage focuses on how important it is to appreciate small things and be happy with what we have. Being happy is good for our overall well-being.

OR

The title is not suitable because it is difficult to be happy all the time. People face many challenges daily and it is difficult to be happy if there is no hope or solution to their problems. ✓✓

NOTE: The above are merely examples. Accept other suitable responses. A candidate can score 1 mark for an answer that is not well-substantiated. Accept a combination answer. (2)
